

Labor Contract Opportunity - EQHA Pre-Service Education and Training Specialist

The International Training and Education Center for Health (I-TECH) at the University of Washington in Seattle, USA, is recruiting for a Pre-Service Education and Training Specialist to work with the Enhancing Quality of Healthcare Activity (EQHA) project in Cambodia.

Project Overview:

The overall goal of the EQHA project in Cambodia is to improve the quality of public and private health services at national and sub-national health systems by August 2023. The project, funded by the US Agency for International Development (USAID), is being implemented by Family Health International (FHI360) in collaboration with I-TECH and other partner organizations. The scope of work for I-TECH is focused on improvements to 1) the national health policy regulatory framework; and 2) national pre-service health education and training institutions. The Pre-Service Education and Training Specialist will provide technical, project management, and administrative support to national pre-service training institutions. He/she will help build the capacity of supported pre-service institutions to deliver high quality educational programs to healthcare workers in training. This position will work closely with both Cambodia-based EQHA staff and the EQHA I-TECH team in Seattle.

Employer Overview:

I-TECH is a center within the University of Washington's Department of Global Health and maintains 13 offices in Africa, Asia, Eastern Europe, and the Caribbean Region. I-TECH's worldwide staff work in partnership with local ministries of health, universities, non-governmental organizations (NGOs), medical facilities, and other organizations to support the development of a skilled health work force and strong national health delivery systems. I-TECH's activities occur primarily in the technical areas of health systems strengthening, including laboratory strengthening and development of health information systems; health workforce development; operations research and evaluation; and prevention, care, and treatment of infectious diseases. The Cambodia-based EQHA team for I-TECH are labor contractors (outsourced employees), hired by and paid through a local third-party human resources vendor. The Pre-Service Education and Training Specialist will be based in Phnom Penh in the Cambodia Country Office of FHI360.

Responsibilities:

- Collaborate with the I-TECH pre-service team lead and others in Seattle to represent the team, provide efficient coordination, and ensure timely implementation of project activities in Cambodia
- Cooperate with FHI360 and its partners in Cambodia to represent EQHA and implement project activities in country
- Assist with coordination and completion of I-TECH assessment activities in year 1, including conducting and/or documenting interviews with key informants in support of situational analyses
- Assist with refinement of the pre-service work plan based upon assessment findings
- Build relationships with EQHA partners and stakeholders in government and targeted national pre-service institutions
- Coordinate technical assistance provided to national pre-service partners from the Seattle-based I-TECH team and other EQHA partners

- Provide technical assistance to targeted national pre-service institutions, including assisting with instructional design activities and delivery of training
- Assist the local Program Administrator to develop and submit regular status reports on the progress of project activities
- Participate in regular meetings via Skype, Zoom or conference call with Seattle and other EQHA partners
- Travel regularly to provide training and technical assistance and to monitor implementation of pre-service strengthening activities in targeted geographic regions/locations

Qualifications:

- a) Bachelor's degree in health education; instructional design; training; medicine, nursing, pharmacy or another healthcare discipline; program administration; or a related field.
- b) At least 3 years of experience in a health education and training environment, with some project or program management experience.
- c) Knowledge of instructional design and training as they relate to clinical education.
- d) Ability to use project management tools and techniques to plan, schedule, and implement projects.
- e) Skills in coordination, communication, and developing relationships with colleagues.
- f) IT skills such as PowerPoint, Word, and Excel.
- g) Fluency in speaking, reading, and writing Khmer (required).
- h) Fluency in speaking, reading, and writing English (required).

Contract Rate: Negotiable upon qualifications, plus benefits.

Contract Terms: One year contract, requiring approximately 176 hours (22 days) days of effort per month.

Guidance for Application:

Interested candidates must submit the following, in English, or the application will not be considered.

- a) Cover letter describing their interest in the position, including past experience and future goals;
- b) Names of three professional references;
- c) Curriculum vitae; and
- d) Any other documentation (e.g., essays, certificates, awards, copies of degrees earned, etc.) that addresses the qualification requirements listed above.

SUBMIT APPLICATIONS TO: eqha@itech-cambodia.org with the title (EQHA Pre-Service Education and Training Specialist) in the subject line. Preference will be given to applications received by January 11, 2019.