BUDGET GUIDELINES

Budget:

1. The budget should include the dates of the subaward.
2. The budget should be in US dollars with the exchange rate noted and date of calculations.
3. Budget categories should include:
   - Salaries (names of personnel, position, yearly salaries and percentage of effort/FTE, scope of responsibility for each position as related to the program objectives). \textit{Staff relocation costs require preapproval and must be outlined separately in this category by staff member with a full justification provided. Staff severance pay must be preapproved and mandated by country employment law in order to be an allowable cost. Itemize separately and provide a full justification for the expense.}
   - Benefits: Includes the cost of health insurance, retirement plans, etc.
   - Consultants (letters from consultants should be available stating daily or hourly rates). \textit{Consultants must be pre-approved.}
   - Other Services (may include printing and photocopying; rent; communication charges both international and local; postage; electricity; courier services; maintenance, etc. \textit{Entertainment costs and participant/trainee costs must be preapproved by the funder.})
   - Travel
   - Subawards: \textit{Must be preapproved.}
   - Supplies
   - Equipment*

*Subawardees must request approval for all equipment costing more than $5,000 per unit.

4. If a line item in the budget is only partially related to the project, it must reflect what portion or percentage was used for calculation of cost (proportional benefit rule) in the justification.
   - For example, if an assistant is spending only 10% of his or her time on this project, then show the yearly salary with a 10% cost to the program.
   - Or, if a generator is being used for an entire structure, and the clinic/ward the contract is supporting represents 30% of the square footage of the total structure, then the budget should reflect that 30% is the cost of the entire yearly cost to run the generator.

5. Expenses for trainings and workshops should be broken down into the proper categories listed above, e.g., travel, supplies, contractors, etc. You should note, however, when items are training related. For example: supplies for trainings should be listed separately from office supplies.

Indirect:
The Federal rules and regulations governing cooperative agreements allow for a 10% de minimus indirect rate for those organizations that have no federally negotiated indirect rate with the United States Government (USG).

The de minimus rate of 10% can be applied to budgets and spending so long as the following criteria are met and maintained:

- The de minimus rate of 10% must be applied uniformly and consistently to all USG Federal awards. An organization cannot charge one contract 8% indirect and another 10%.
- The de minimus rate must be adequately backed up, meaning that suitable budgetary evidence should be available demonstrating that indirect costs meet the sum of 10% of the total contract value being requested.
- Items accounted for in the de minimus indirect rate cannot be included as direct costs on the same budget, i.e. a directors salary or rental costs can only be listed as a direct cost or accounted for in the indirect rate. Costs must be \textit{consistently} charged as either direct or indirect costs.

- The cost principles of the US Government Rules and Regulations apply to any purchases made with funds received as part of an indirect cost rate. Funds earned from indirect cost rates cannot be used to pay for anything that would be unallowable as a direct cost.

Under the HHS Grants Policy Statement, indirect rates are \textbf{not} allowed for international or foreign organizations if the work will be performed entirely outside the territorial limits of the United States (indirect costs may be paid to the American University, Beirut, which is not considered a foreign organization, and the World Health Organization).
